Biographical Note

Robert H. Thonhoff is a retired educator, a former Karnes County judge, an author, historian, speaker, emcee, consultant, and bookseller. He was born on December 12, 1929, and raised in Salida, Colorado, but has lived in Texas since 1947. After serving three years in the United States Air Force, Thonhoff earned a B.A. in History from St. Mary's University in 1953, and an M.A. in History from Southwest Texas State College in 1963. He pursued a Ph.D. in history at the University of Texas in Austin during the 1960s and 1970s.

Thonhoff started a 35-year career as a teacher in Jourdanton, Texas, in 1953. From 1956 to 1988, he and his wife, Victoria (Vicie) Balser Thonhoff, chose to live, work, and raise their three children in Fashing, Texas, where he was principal of Fashing Elementary School, and also acted as bus driver and occasional custodian. Both Thonhoff and his wife retired from teaching on June 1, 1988, and relocated to nearby Karnes City, where he indulged his love of Texas history on a full-time basis.

Thonhoff has written or edited numerous books, essays, and monographs on South Texas history, and is a five-time winner of the Presidio La Bahía Award, which the Sons of the Republic of Texas gives annually for the best work on Texas history during the colonial era. Three of these books tell about Texas's role in the American Revolution; another details the Battle of Medina, which occurred in 1813 during the War for Mexican Independence. Thonhoff has also written a full-length study on the history of Camp Kenedy from its inception as a WWI training center, its later repurposing as a Civilian Conservation Corps camp and alien detention center, and its final role as a WWII prisoner-of-war facility.

As an ambassador for the Institute of Texan Cultures, Thonhoff served annually as an emcee for its Texas Folklife Festival, which began in 1972; for this event, he portrayed the outlandish "Professor Katzenjammer," retiring the character in 2006. In December 1988, he was chair of the Alamo-La Bahía Corridor Task Force of the Alamo Area Council of Governments (AACG), an organization that promoted colonial Texas history and tourism in a five-county corridor. In 1990, he received the Regional Citizen Award given by the 12-county AACG. A long-time member of the Texas State Historical Association (TSHA), Thonhoff was elected a Fellow in 1980, served on its Executive Committee from 1984 to 1988, and was elected as its president for the 1994-1995 term.

Scope and Content Note

The Robert H. Thonhoff Collection primarily consists of research materials, newspapers, writings, correspondence, artifacts, and published works representing Thonhoff's personal and professional activities, as well as the histories of various South Texas communities. It also includes correspondence and research material sent by Thonhoff's scholarly and professional associates: Maurice Ballard, Eric and Conchita Beerman, D. Hoyer Eargle, Robin Ellis, Ron Higginbotham, Granville W. Hough, John Ogden Leal, and Sr. Jose Ignacio Vasconcelos.

Photocopies make up much of the collection.

Series 4: Camp Kenedy research and writings

This series contains material relating to Thonhoff's research and writings on the history of Camp Kenedy. Record types include interview notes and transcripts, correspondence, images, personnel files, artwork, creative writing, news clippings, pamphlets, and brochures. Among the items of interest are interviews with foreign nationals and enemy combatants who were detained as prisoners of war during World War II, as well as the German internees' creative efforts about their experiences. Records concerning the daily operation of the site as a CCC work camp and as a detention center are also noteworthy. Correspondence and press material document the postwar reunions of former German internees who called themselves the “Kenedy Familie.”

Material is divided into subseries according to the chapters of Thonhoff’s 2003 book Camp Kenedy, Texas. Folders titled with the names of individuals contain biographical and/or interview material on said persons.

Series 6: El Fuerte del Cibolo

This series contains material relating to Thonhoff's book on the eponymous Spanish fort, which was established to protect the ranches between San Antonio and Goliad during the 1770s and 1780s. Thonhoff first published a monograph about the fort in 1970 and then expanded it into a new, longer edition, which he published in 1992. Writings and research material for the second version are present in this series, along with related correspondence. The second subseries contains artifacts from the Anne and Emil Krawietz farm near in Karnes County, which Thonhoff and others believe was the site of the fort.
